

ONE MILLION children were victims of CYBERBULLYING in 2011 on Facebook alone

THE TRUTH ABOUT CYBERBULLYING

88%

of social media-using teens have seen someone be mean or cruel on a social network site

The most common types of cyberbullying are mean and hurtful comments (14.3%) followed by rumors spread (13.3%)

Teens who spend more than three hours per school day on online social networks are more likely to be cyberbullied

110%

25% of girls

17% of boys

ONLY 7% of U.S. parents are worried about cyberbullying

EVEN THOUGH

33% of teens have been victims of cyberbullying

1 in 6

KNOW THEIR CHILD HAS BEEN BULLIED VIA A SOCIAL NETWORKING SITE.

21% of teens have been victims of cyberbullying at least once in their life

19% of teens have cyberbullied others at least once in their life

13% of teens said they had an experience on a social network site that made them feel nervous about going to school the next day

20% of teens say that people are mostly unkind on social media sites

TO LEARN MORE ABOUT CYBERBULLYING AND HOW TO PROTECT YOUR CHILD VISIT:

www.uKnowKids.com

References:
American Osteopathic Association <http://www.osteopathic.org>
The New Charitable Trusts <http://www.pewtrusts.org/>
Enough is Enough <http://www.internetsafety101.org/>
Cyberbullying Research Center <http://www.cyberbullying.us>
The Pew Internet <http://pewinternet.org>

Designer: Brigit Gilbert